

WHP 1000 Preheating plate 1000 W

The Weller WHP 1000 preheating plate with an output of 1000 W offers an efficient solution for preparing soldering work. It enables workpieces to be heated evenly, which improves the soldering quality and shortens the process time. In addition, the soldering fume extraction system on the soldering iron ensures a clean working environment by reliably removing harmful fumes. This combination of preheating plate and extraction optimizes the soldering process and contributes to safe and precise work.
