Nylon glove Palm FIT, S

The nylon gloves Palm FIT model HSB0500-S from DIVERS are specially developed for use in class 1000 cleanroom areas. Made from flexible nylon and equipped with a PU coating on the palms, they offer a secure grip and precise handling of small components.

The long-fingered design fully protects the hands, while the lightweight material ensures a high level of comfort even during long periods of use. The size S ensures an ergonomic fit for smaller hands and supports fatigue-free working in laboratories, assembly areas or cleanrooms.

The gloves are supplied in 10-pair VPEs, making them ideal for working environments where cleanliness, precision and protection against contamination are top priorities.
