There is more to the dowel hole beater than meets the eye. A special construction inside galvanically separates the blade from the steel cap. This makes the tool ideal for hammering in dowel holes quickly and easily. Without a drill. Without dirt. Without constant noise. The galvanic separation between blade and steel cap means that the user is always protected, even if a power line is accidentally hit. The profile has also been optimized to minimize chipping when hammering into the wall. The scale applied to the blade shows the user quickly and conveniently how deep the hole already is. The soft zone of the ergonomically shaped SoftFinish® multi-component handle is made of skin-friendly special material and lies comfortably in the hand.

CAUTION: Not a VDE product according to IEC 60900. Blade not insulated, must not be touched during use. Safe access at the rear handle area, as impact cap is galvanically separated from blade and protected against puncture.
