

Flex arm for FAE suction series, Ø 50 mm

FAE022 is a fully flexible arm that can be easily adapted to your workbench. Holes are required for attachment.

With a length of 1.2 m, it offers a larger working area and, thanks to the reinforced material, ensures a longer service life by reducing the wear and tear caused by constant handling. FAE regulates the air flow depending on the filter saturation and the number of extraction hoses used.
